The art of Patricia Laspino exudes a serene beauty that transcends style or period. She forges a synergistic relationship between art, popular culture, and scientific illustration. Nature has been a primary inspiration in Pat's life as well as the focus of her art. She interprets a familiar floral subject, like orchids, but offers a fresh perspective through her oil paintings

This is a personal invitation from Chasen Galleries of Richmond, Virginia to come and enjoy the artwork and the company of this talented artist.
